Sleep Systems

Alpine 2°C|35°F Down Blanket

The Therm-a-Rest® Alpine Down Blanket combines unrestricted freedom of movement with a high-tech twist, offering 3-season warmth at only 624 grams. Ideal for fast and light summer excursions into the backcountry where every ounce is scrutinized, this 700-fill down comforter will make any trip more enjoyable, enticing even new converts to experience the comfort of a Therm-a-Rest Sleep System.

Features:

- Zipper-free for easy entry – just like a bed at home.
- Compact and highly compressible.
- Box-baffled 700-fill goose down.
- Perimeter snaps work with Therm-a-Rest Fitted Sheet or a Mattress Snap Kit to keep blanket in place while sleeping.
- Draft collars and foot box construction keeps cold air out while sleeping.

Trek & Travel™ Series Mattresses

All-season NeoAir™

This four-season Therm-a-Rest® air mattress offers unbeatable stability, warmth, lightweight comfort and lasting performance year-round. A patent-pending multiple-layer design of the NeoAir™ Reflective Barrier creates extra warmth by reflecting heat back to the user's body and reducing convective heat loss to the ground. In addition to minimizing air movement and convective cooling, the patent-pending Triangular Core Matrix creates an internal truss system that virtually eliminates the instability generally found on large tube-based air mattresses, assuring a more comfortable night's sleep. More rugged fabrics provide added protection from four-season abrasion and abuse. No fiber or down insulation provides significant weight and space savings over any mattress with comparable warmth.

NeoAir™ Trekker

The newest Therm-a-Rest air mattress features the same innovative Triangular Core Matrix™ design as the wildly successful NeoAir mattress. This matrix contributes to mattress warmth by creating a multitude of air cells that minimize air movement and convective cooling, also creating an internal truss system that virtually eliminates the instability generally found on large tube-based air mattresses. Extremely compact and lightweight, the NeoAir Trekker mattress features a durable yet supple fabric that is ideal for backpackers, globetrotters and campers everywhere. (Note: The internal NeoAir Reflective Barrier is not featured in the NeoAir Trekker mattress.)

Trail Pro™ &
Women's Trail
Pro™

Merging two of the latest Therm-a-Rest mattress innovations, the redesigned Trail Pro mattress reigns as the warmest and most comfortable self-inflating backpacking mattress in the line. Diagonal-cut foams bring added warmth by retaining heat, while digital pressure-mapping technology boosts comfort with targeted support and softness relative to the body's contours. Women's model features added warmth in the feet and torso areas where women tend to lose body heat first.

Accessories

AirTap™ Pump

Any Therm-a-Rest® air mattress can be filled with near zero effort or additional pack weight with the AirTap Pump. Simply pierce the bottom of any air-tight bag with the piercing tip and attach the valve coupler. To fill the mattress, capture air in the open end of the bag, then roll down, forcing the air out of the bag and into the mattress. Repeat as necessary. Lightweight plastic bags are provided with the kit, or stuff sacks can be used. The tap can stay permanently in place on a stuff sack, while maintaining waterproof performance with use of a cap included in the kit.

One Size

Travel Cushion

Used extensively in medical and industrial applications, Digital Pressure Mapping technology was utilized in the design of the Travel Cushion to offer both back and leg support to relieve ischial spine pressure. The result is a seating cushion that makes long drives and flights more enjoyable. Self-inflating top and bottom pads allow a fine-tuned adjustment and pack easily in carry-ons for life on-the-go. Hook & loop tabs allow you to mate a second Travel Cushion for added back support.
